Onde

Organize corporate events in days, not months.

The problem

- Limited visibility into new options within the same budget.
- Difficulty executing well in cities where you have no contacts.
- Time wasted searching for alternatives that are actually worth it.

The Onde difference

- More than 3,000 venues, speakers, and vendors — ready to activate.
- We give you distinct, viable options that fit your budget.
- No searching, negotiating, or starting from scratch every time.

What changes in practice

- More variety without increasing operational load.
- New locations and formats, without the risk.
- Solid execution even in cities where you have no network.
- Budget-aligned proposals from day one.

Where we add the most value

- Events or training sessions in new cities, no learning curve.
- Experiences for clients or teams that actually change the format.
- Retreats and team buildings that don't feel like the same old thing.

One single point of access for everything you need for your event.

We connect you with the best options, already filtered, ready to decide.

1 Tell us what you want to achieve
Goal, date, budget.

2 We quote and propose validated options
We negotiate with vendors and send you clear proposals. Everything organized so you can compare and decide fast.

3 We centralize the contracting
One contract. One invoice. No managing multiple payments or coordinating vendors separately.

Tell us about your next event and we'll show you distinct options in days, not weeks.
